OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, D C Jan 31 1866

The gossip mongers are determined to have it that the Seward family having gone to Vera Cruz to see Maximilian and to discuss matters of world wide importance with that power There is really nothing in it Mr Seward and especially his son Frederick needed rest a change and the benefits of a sea voyage As the instructions given to the commander of the vessel indicated that it would touch at Vera Cruz certain speculators in events who are always on the lookout for something upon which to hang a sensation dispatch or letter, started the Maximilian story There is nothing in it

There is something of importance to be inferred however, from Mr Seward's prolonged absence at this season of the year It is that our foreign relations are in a very satisfactory condition, for if they were not the Secretary of State would not absent himself for two or three weeks All the stories therefore, of a critical time in reference to France and Mexico are false The future will decide the Mexican difficulty and possibly without a war Certainly the President stands ready to carry out the opinions of the American people on that subject however radical they may be, but he coincides with Mr Seward in the opinion that if we remain patient it will not be long before our wishes will be met by the abdication and retreat of Maximilian

Gov Anderson of Ohio has been discussing the Mexican question in his message to the Legislature in a singular manner He endorses the Monroe doctrine in an amusing manner, and the whole tone of his message on this subject is so unusual and unique that it has excited very general observation It will hardly be approved here, for the Monroe doctrine has now staunch supporters in Congress

But its staunchest defender is dead. When Henry Winter Davis fell, one of the boldest advocates of national honor perished He was doubtless an extremist but he was also a genuine patriot He was the noted enemy of Maximilian Louis Napoleon and anything looking like imperialism in Mexico His sudden death was a terrible shock to the political world He had many ardent friends in Congress, and all who were not absent in distant lands attended his funeral As is well known, Mr Davis was not on the best terms with Mr Lincoln's administration This was also the case with the present administration To tell the truth he could not get on well with any administration He was too independent by nature to be the supporter of any set of men, or any party In spite of this failing (for it was a failing) he was one of the most brilliant members of the Republican party, and was the best debater the House of Representatives has seen in many years

The President received his multitude of friends on New Year's day according to the usual custom He seems to be in excellent health, but he did not bear the fatigue of the occasion as well as might have been expected His arm was badly swollen the next morning, and he was ill Monday night For one day the politicians did not worry him, but on Wednesday (Tuesday was cabinet meeting day) they were upon him again in full force. Some of the Southern claimants are making him regular visits as if he were their advocate He is not entirely satisfied I learn by this conduct on their part, as it looks very much as if he was opposed to the Congressional policy in reference to restoration whereas he does not desire to be placed in any such attitude.

The President, no doubt, is greatly encouraged in his course by the approval of political bodies. The Republican State Convention of New Hampshire, a staunch Republican and New England State by a special resolution supports the President's scheme of restoration. This was hardly to be expected Not a word was said that I can find encouraging Congress to stand firm against carrying out the President's views, but very much for union harmony, etc If this is to be taken as an indication of public sentiment at the North, then Mr Johnson is overwhelmingly popular So far he has not turned a single man out of office because he holds radical views, and he confines his nominations to Republicans. The opposition journals are showing that the President is of them, and will soon detach himself from the Republicans! The New York World and the Chicago Times are chief among the opposition newspapers who make this claim The Chicago Republican (a conservative Republican paper) denies the truth of these allegations with considerable warmth If they were true the Republican claims that it would only prove that the President was deceiving his best friends It would show the country that he was treacherous, whereas he is just the opposite—an open, frank and feeling statesman The opposition politicians in this city are playing the same foolish game—trying to believe that the President has promised them to veto bills which Congress may pass, in opposition to their wishes This is all moonshine Some one asked Secretary Harlan two or three days since what he thought about it His reply was simple — "Go ahead and pass such laws for the District as you think necessary (he was talking to a Senator) and the President will never interfere." It is quite probable that Congress will not interfere with the suffrage question here, but if it does the President will not veto any bill they may pass However there is great excitement on the subject among the people of this District, and the local papers are busy attacking the Government officeholders here who have taken a somewhat active part in the attempt to give the more intelligent colored people the ballot The Postmaster and Collector of Internal Revenue are set down as very bad men because they hold views not unlike those of the President on this delicate subject.

The papers are publishing lists of prize money awarded by the Treasury Department to the various officers in the navy who won it according to existing laws I present herewith the list of Admirals, Commodores and Captains, simply for an illustration;

Vice Admiral D. Farragut $56,443.

Rear Admirals—S P Lee, $99,456; D D Porter, 90,348, G F Dupont, $58,476; T. Bailey, $39 090 G. H Stringham $14 447, H. H Bell, $12 207 T. R Green, $10 310, J A Dahlgren, $9 871 Chas Wilkes, $7 918 H K Thatcher, $5 460 J S Palmer, $5,510, L M Goldsborough $3 020 C K Stribling $2 261; Wm Mervine $1 471 A A Harwood, $471

Commodore Wm W McKean, $28 518.

Captains—T A Craven $4 670 J B Marchand $12 496 John Marston, $4,046, K R Breese $7,9[illegible] J S Barnes $4 481 S F Scott, $9 31[illegible] W R Taylor $3 265 J. R Green, $7 388, John Rodgers, $5,137, B F Sands $28,016 W M Walker, $34 518

You see from this list that it is by no means the most gallant naval officers who have made the most prize money On the contrary, it is, generally speaking the men who watched closest for cotton (and not for chances of fighting) who made the most prize money In noticing this point the Republican of this city says

"Admiral Dupont kept his ships outside the bar of Charleston, and made $58 000 thereby President Lincoln issued an imperative order to him to move his ships inside and seal the harbor against blockade running Dupont disobeyed and was relieved Dahlgren succeeded him and moved his ships inside the bar and blockade running was so completely destroyed that Dahlgren's prize money amounts to a little over nine thousand dollars as will be seen by the report which we publish elsewhere to day About $6,000 000 more is yet to be paid which will probably swell the sums against the names of Lee, Porter and Dupont"

The total amount of prize money which has been distributed thus far amounts to $9 500 000 The publication of this list gives dissatisfaction in some quarters Admirals Lee and Porter (who did little fighting) will get a very large amount in the end

The report of the Land Commissioner is just printed and in it I find some interesting statistics in reference to Oregon and the Pacific slope He takes strong grounds in favor of supporting the Pacific Railroad—both routes He states that Congress has appropriated for the benefit of the Central route thirty five millions of acres of land And the Northern route, which begins at Lake Superior and ends at Olympia at the southernmost point on Puget Sound forty seven millions of acres have been granted In speaking of minerals he says

"Kansas, Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California through which will pass the lines of the Central and Union Pacific railways, are known to contain immense deposits of iron and coal, thus furnishing the material in great abundance and of superior quality, for both constructing and working railways to any conceivable extent New Mexico and Arizona are likewise rich in these essential minerals and those Territories should be encouraged by the aid of liberal grants of the public domain to connect them with the great trunk road by lateral branches

Montana Idaho, and eastern Oregon and Washington equally rich in both precious and useful metals present similar claims for consideration, and promise like liberal returns in the yield of their mines and forests"

Here is something in reference to Oregon

"During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1865, surveys in Oregon have progressed to the extent of available means The field work on the Columbia river in the valleys of John Day's, Umatilla, Grand Ronde, and Powder river, was equal to 50[illegible] lineal miles of standard, township and section lines, and embrace 199,028 acres.

It is reported that a large number of immigrants seeking homes are locating in the eastern portion of Oregon, in the valley situated between the Blue mountains and the Snake river, over which standard lines have been established, as preparatory to township and subdivisional surveys.

The surveys during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1867, are proposed in the Coquille and Umpqua river valleys, along Oregon Central military road, John Day's, and Umatilla river valleys; and to cover the expense of such field operations a corresponding estimate has been presented by the surveyor general The annual report of that officer furnishes interesting details of the varied resources of Oregon; treats particularly of the productiveness of the soil, valuable timber, fruit trees, water-power, mines and minerals. The gold and silver export products of Oregon in one year are reported as $15,000,000, whilst the export of the products of agriculture, of the forest, fisheries, wool, and other articles, reach $10,000,000, making a grand total of Oregon exports of $25,000,000

Of Washington Territory, he says;

"In this distant territory the surveys have been advanced, by using unexpended balances of former appropriations, to the extent of 505 lineal miles of standard parallel, township and sections, embracing 210 471 acres, in the following localities—at the confluence of Yakima with Columbia river, and on the upper waters of the Touchet, a tributary of Walla Walla river, being east of the Cascade and west of the Blue mountains; on the Puyallup river, in the vicinity of the Commencement bay; on Cedar river, affluent of the Dwamish or Washington lake, and bordering the lake Sammamish, lying between the Admiralty inlet and west of the Cascade mountains. In order to extend the public surveys down the Straits of Fuca, and to embrace Clallam bay and the reported coal-fields in that region, the lines of the public surveys were extended by traverse along the straits by setting posts for corners of fractional townships In thus determining the relative positions of the townships situated between the Olympic range of the mountains, presenting insurmountable obstacles to the extension of the public lines in place, the fractional township thirty-two north, range twelve west, of the Willamette meridian, was reached, and as it included the town of Gaston, on the Clallam river, it has been subdivided.

The proposed surveys, as estimated for by the surveyor general, for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1867, are indicated upon the accompanying map, and are situated in localities east of the Cascade mountains, the extension of standard lines to be in the direction of the Snake and the Palouse rivers, to the western limits of the Territory of Idaho and in proximity to Fort Colville; the land being of the best quality, and where settlements have existed for upwards of thirty years.

Surveys are also proposed west of the mountains in the numerous valleys of the rivers emptying into the Admiralty inlet, and in the vicinity of Shoalwater bay, now desired for actual settlements, in view of expected immigration in that direction."

In speaking of the boundary lines between Oregon and Washington Territory, he states that the report of the surveyor has not been received.

Mr. Henderson introduced a bill into the Senate two or three days since providing for the removal of the Branch Mint in Oregon to Portland.

The Congressional delegation from Oregon informed the Secretary of the Treasury some days since, that the Indian Reservation in that vicinity was unnecessarily large, and they ask for its curtailment so as to secure access to Acquina Bay. The request, after due consideration, was granted.

There is not a little feeling here in reference to the great meeting in New York, held last Saturday night, in support of the Monroe doctrine. Mr Nesmith, of your State, took bold ground against the Maximilian Government and in favor of immediate interference. It is expected that strong resolutions will soon be adopted by the House, if not by the Senate on the subject. The committee on Federal relations in both Houses are somewhat conservative and disposed to reflect the views of the State Department rather than those of Congress, but nothing can long repress a public expression of the opinions of the majority in the House.

STEAMER DAY

TERMS OF RESTORATION.—In a late speech at Columbus, Ohio, Gen. Schenck, a leading Congressman from that State, enumerated the specific conditions on which he and the Union members generally were willing to admit the Southern States to their old relations with the Government. The conditions are as follows:

1. The Constitutional Amendment in regard to slavery, already legally effected. 2. Providing against the payment of the rebel debt. 3. A Constitutional amendment basing representation on the voting population. This amendment he insisted should be adopted by three-fourths of the loyal States before admitting the other States, and requiring them to agree to it; otherwise they might defeat it, and ultimately gain such power as to undo all that has been done to prevent a repetition of the late disasters. If the President will not agree with Congress to this extent, I, for one, cannot help it, and shall have to think him mistaken as to the best policy. He is, I know, in favor of the amendment, and I think the majority in Congress are also in favor of it. The committee to whom it was referred will soon report, I understand, in favor of it, and this measure adopted, I think before the end of the year you will find the people of the South ready to assent to it, and come into the arrangement that will give permanent security to our free government.

PUGET SOUND.—From the Olympia Standard we gather the following

The heavy storms this winter have caused many land slides along the shores of the Sound. On both sides of the bay at this place, acres of ground and some of it covered with heavy timber, has been precipitated into the bay. The lands bordering on the bay owned by Messrs. Percival, Marsh, Tilley Bigelow, Frost and Hale, have all suffered more or less damage

Stephen Judson, Esq, Sheriff of Pierce county, was severely cut by Richard Flander, at Steilacoom, one day last week Mr Judson was attempting to separate the assailant from another man with whom he had had a difficulty which had led to a fight, when Flander stabbed him in the neck, inflicting a painful though it is hoped not a serious wound

We are informed that a difficulty occurred between J K Kennedy, Esq and Hon J J H. Van Bokkelen, last week in which the latter was stabbed The wound is not considered dangerous, however

We are informed that J Bonser Esq has purchased a site on the corner of Fourth and Main streets upon which it is proposed to immediately erect a large three-story building for a first class hotel

UNION COUNTY CONVENTION

All [illegible] who have been and are in favor of maintaining the supremacy of the Constitution and Laws of the United States, and the integrity of the Union of the States, are requested to meet in the several precincts to choose Delegates to a Union County Convention for Multnomah County, to be held on Saturday, the 24th day of March, A. D. 1866, at the hour of 10 o clock, A. M., at the Court House in said County, to nominate Delegates to the State Convention, Candidates for the Legislature and County officers for said County, and to transact such other business as may be properly brought before the Convention.

It is [illegible] recommended that the several precinct meetings be held at the places of voting in each precinct on Saturday, the 20th day of March, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

The County have [illegible] the basis of [illegible] the [illegible] by the State Central Committee, viz: the [illegible] vote of June, A. D. 1864.

The several [illegible] are entitled to the following number of Delegates to the County Convention: North Portland, 18; South Portland, 22; Willamette, 3; Powell's Valley, 2; Sandy, 2; East Portland, 5; St. John's, 1; [illegible], 1; Multnomah, 2.

THOS. FRAZAR,
J. N. DOLPH,
C. RICORT,
County Committee

The Validity of the Amendment Denied.

The [illegible] is often made that the slavery question is settled for all time. If the Union party shall retain power in a majority of the States, the question is settled; if the Democratic party shall regain power within the next ten years, the [illegible] of the same old question will surely be [illegible]. The well known position of the Democratic party on the subject of State rights, fully [illegible] the belief that if it recovers [illegible] of the government of the States and of the nation, it will declare the Constitutional Amendment [illegible] to be violative of the reserved rights of the States affected by it, and, therefore void. In this way that party will find an excuse for again setting up for worship in the temple of Democracy their old shoe idol. Without slavery the Democratic party for the last thirty years could have been nothing. The hope of re-establishing the institution to which the party has been so long devoted, is in [illegible] inseparable with [illegible] capital for political [illegible]. If the Democracy [illegible] on any pretext revive slavery and adopt the payment of the rebel debt, they [illegible] fully compensated for, all their losses, and even for the failure of the rebellion.

The [illegible] already denies the validity of the Constitutional Amendment. In the first place it is urged that the Amendment was ratified by the Southern States under compulsion; they [illegible] the [illegible] was invalid. In the next place it is claimed that the Amendment was binding on no State that did not ratify it. Kentucky's right to have slavery was a reserved right which could not be infringed on. One of the [illegible], of Shelby county, went still further.

He denied the power of amending the Constitution so as to destroy slavery. Slavery was an institution at State right, [illegible] the Constitution. If every State in the Union were to ratify the amendment, it still would not be binding upon Kentucky And the man who would favor this measure was as much a rebel as Jeff. Davis. Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson were as much, if not more, traitors to the Government than Jeff. Davis The country was nothing more or less than an empire, with President Johnson as Dictator. When the President used the army to destroy slavery he was in open rebellion against the Government He hoped the resolution would be voted down, and it was voted down—yeas 15, nays 19.

Precisely [illegible] was the spirit of the opposition in the legislature of this State at the late special session. It is [illegible] the sentiment of the Democratic party.

The New York Day Book, one of the principal journals of the Democracy, publishes the following, which is copied approvingly by the Review of [illegible]:

The pretended amendment is a mere sham. No honest court will ever hold it binding. In the Northern States it has been rushed through under Jacobin excitement. At the South it has been forced upon the people against their solemn protests.

To the same effect are the words of the State Rights Democrat of last week

It must naturally occur to the common sense of all that, if these States are emasculated of their Statehood, and were at the time of the vote upon the amendment, and are yet, deprived of the rights pertaining to States of the Union, their votes upon the amendment were vain and impotent, and, per consequence, the requisite number of actual States having failed to ratify, the amendment in question is not constitutionally added to the instrument—that it is void, worthless and of no effect.

These extracts plainly reveal the intention of the Democratic party to set aside the Constitutional amendment if possible The whole question of slavery will be revived if that party again comes into power.

AN EDITOR WANTS A SCHOOL HOUSE —The Lafayette Courier (Andy Shunk's organ) wants a "school house" built in the town in which its editor is permitted to stay We are very friendly to school houses generally, but we fear the establishment of a school at Lafayette would quite spoil the literature of the Courier We should have no more of such phrases as "that miserable penchant, the bantling of a small mind," we should miss such words as "nominal" from the vocabulary, and lose forever such elegant orthography as we see in "abstruse," "enjondering," "illiterate," &c. Had we a voice in the matter we should be very reluctant to give it in favor of a school house at Lafayette.

HOW TRUE!—The Copperhead paper at Lafayette says the "Democracy was seized with hydrophobia in 1861" This remark is, of course to be taken in its literal sense It is inaccurate, however, in one small particular The party had a wonderful dread of water long before 1861 We are quite sure the Lafayette editor's hydrophobia is of longer standing than five years

The Stockton (Cal) Daily Independent has commenced its tenth volume The vigor and ability which it displays make it rank among the very best journals in California It has done, and is still doing, most effectual service for the national cause

WASHINGTON Feb 20 In the House this morning, Stevens of Pennsylvania from the joint committee reported a resolution declaring that in order to close agitation upon the question which seems likely to disturb the action of the Government as well as to quiet uncertainty which exists in the minds of the people of the eleven States declared to be in insurrection no Senators or Representatives shall be admitted into Congress from either of the said States until Congress shall have declared such States entitled to such representation Upon this Stevens demanded the previous question and much excitement followed with dilatory motions to stave off a vote

Eldridge of Wisconsin said if the other side would allow debate his side would stop

Stevens of Pennsylvania replied that he had sat here forty eight hours when the rebels were out and could not stand it thirty six hours longer

Dilatory motions continued till 7 15, P M when the resolution passed 109 against 40 Adjourned

As soon as the Senate met Wade of Ohio offered a resolution to amend the Constitution providing the President shall be ineligible for a second term

Rumor says both Stanton and Harlan will resign in consequence of the veto

WASHINGTON, Feb 20 —The Presidents veto Message is all the talk The first remark of everybody is that the President did not write it The next remark is that the President has separated from the majority in Congress and gone over to the other side All agree that the Message is most ably written admirable in argument and with incontrovertible points The common belief is that Seward wrote or revised it hence comes the suspicion as to how the Cabinet stood and report says that Seward, McCulloch Welles and Dennison favored the veto, the others opposing The effect here is marked Both joy and anger and perhaps dismay are exhibited It is only too apparent that the breach is widening between the President and the party Whether it is too wide for either to jump across or whether either is disposed to jump remains to be seen The veto having been addressed to the Senate the question comes up at once whether the bill should pass over the veto Lost—ayes, 30, noes, 18, not two thirds The question cannot, therefore, reach the House. The veto having been put on general grounds no attempt will be made to pass another freedmen's bill The whole question of reconstruction becomes muddled. It is doubtful if the President will sign the civil rights bill, pending in the House. It is more doubtful since Sumner's radical opposition if the Constitutional Amendment passes the Senate. Speaking plainly, things are mixed

A miscellaneous crowd, headed by Judge Hughes, of Indiana, Green, Clay, Smith and George Francis Train, with a band of music, serenaded the President last night in honor of the veto Message. The President did not respond

Last Saturday General Grant issued an order requiring military commanders in the South to report the names of the newspapers having a pernicious influence that the same might be by him suppressed.

Yesterday the President in effect revoked the order by allowing the Richmond Examiner to resume publication.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—On account of the excitement attending the veto, the usual Presidential reception was not held last evening.

The character of those who serenaded the President Monday night may be judged by the circumstance that the prominent leaders of the crowd walked up to the bar at Willards' and with great parade drank a toast to the three greatest Americans, Jefferson Davis, Andrew Johnson and Robert E. Lee.

The following are the ayes and noes in the Senate on the passage of the bill over the veto: Ayes —Anthony, Brown, Chandler, Clark, Conness, Cragin, Creswell, Crittenden, Fowler, Grimes, Harris, Henderson, Howard, Howe, Kirkwood, Lane, of Indiana, Lane, of Kansas, Nye, Pollard, Pomeroy, Morrill, Ramsey, Sherman, Sprague, Sumner, Trumbull, Wade, Williams, Wilson, Yates

Noes—Buckalew, Cowan, Davis, Dixon, Doolittle, Guthrie, Hendricks, Johnson, McDougal, Morgan, Nesmith, Norton, Riddle Saulsbury, Stewart, Stockton, Van Winkle and Bulkley

Except that the veto has demonstrated there is not a two-thirds majority in the Senate, the President has gained nothing. The majority of thirty against him is stronger than ever.

The reconstruction committee although prepared to report favorably on the admission of Tennessee has postponed all action on the case, and it is doubtful if any Southern State will be admitted this Congress

Benj Wade in a speech yesterday denounced the President and said that any one who would favor the admission of the unwashed traitors to Congress, was himself a traitor at heart

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 —The following are the editorial comments on the Presidents veto in the Chicago Tribune, which paper says 'Since the closing scenes of the war and the sad horrors of the assassination of President Lincoln no event has created such a profound sensation as the formal act by which the President has severed himself from the loyal party and united with its enemies North and South before the Union is safe or the war fully ended. The Presidents veto will at least have one good effect namely, in according conclusive proof to doubting souls of Johnson's recreancy to the great cause for which our people laid down their lives and their property and convincing our citizens by the logic of a most ugly fact of the backsliding of their Chief Magistrate "

The Chicago Republican says The country will learn with amazement that the President has vetoed an Act whose title might justly have been an Act to force a bill of rights on that issue (!) He appeals to the people from the decision of Congress. There is no doubt Congress will gladly and unhesitatingly accept the challenge and the people will sustain them "

The Chicago Times says This veto assures the country that the radicals are impotent against the President, so good men may breathe freer The country has been saved a great calamity It is safe against similar calamities in future There has been a sublime triumph of right over wrong "

The Washington Chronicle says "The veto is the cause for universal solicitude The surrender of Lee was only the beginning of the rebellion A defeated traitor threatens again to bring a triumphant dictator even from his strong cell in Fortress Monroe "

The New York Tribune says We deeply regret the veto and think the President will live to regret it even more deep "

The New York World says: " President Johnson has nobly sustained his character for steadiness of purpose and political courage

The New York Times says 'The veto implies no essential difference of opinion between the majority in Congress on the primary object of the bill, but he seeks to reach the end arrived at by other and what he deems less radical agencies

NEW HAVEN, Feb 20 —Democrats here are firing guns and otherwise jubilating over the President's veto

WASHINGTON, Feb 21 —In the House to day Garfield of Ohio caused to be read a telegram from Columbus, Ohio giving a resolution adopted by the caucus of the Union members of the Legislature, sustaining the Congressional plan of reconstruction

The House, by a vote of 108 against 37 laid on the table a motion to reconsider the vote by which was passed the resolution that no Senator or Representative shall be admitted into either branch of Congress from any of the late rebellious States until Congress shall have first declared such States entitled to representation The House Committee on Territories have applied to Secretary Stanton for permission to summon General P E. Connor commanding the forces in Utah and Rev Norman McLeod pastor of the Gentile church in Salt Lake City to appear and testify touching the condition of Utah and the manner in which the laws of the United States are observed and enforced Judge Titus and a number of other witnesses have already been examined It is stated semi officially that the Government has decided to appoint no more polygamists to office

WASHINGTON, Feb 21 —The Senate Committee on the District of Columbia have decided to report the House bill conferring negro suffrage in the District, and recommend its immediate passage Morrill, of Vermont, in the House, speaking upon the finance bill said it was not in order to allude to what had recently taken place in the Senate but happen what may Union men will not forget that they [illegible] country [illegible] He proceeded to explain the financial situation Further consideration of the bill was postponed

DAYTON OHIO Feb 20 The Democracy held a jubilee over the veto this afternoon firing a salute and burning [illegible] Vallandigham made a brief speech showing that the Democracy [illegible] President Johnson but now they intend to stand by him He announced a mass meeting for exultation A flag floats from Vallandigham's window

CHICAGO Feb 21 [illegible]—Private advices give a rumor that preparations are being made to impeach President Johnson for mal administration [illegible] specific charge of [illegible] misconduct under article [illegible] of the Constitution [illegible] The [illegible] the abuse of power [illegible] and [illegible] high federal functionaries The House has power to draw a bill of impeachment [illegible] to the Senate Chief Justice Chase Presiding [illegible] in the matter [illegible] that a healthy example may be made for all future Presidents

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB 23 1866

UNION STATE CONVENTION.

The voters of the several counties of Oregon who have been and are in favor of maintaining the supremacy of the Union the Constitution and the laws of the United States, against all opposition, are respectfully invited to hold Conventions according to the usual custom, for the election of Delegates to a Union State Convention to be held at Corvallis on the 29th day of March 1866, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Member of Congress, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and State Printer. We respectfully recommend the holding of County Conventions throughout the State on Saturday the 17th day of March, 1866, at which time Delegates to the State Convention can be selected. It is also recommended that the precinct meetings be held on Saturday the 10th day of March. Delegates to the State Convention from each Judicial District assembled at the time of holding said Convention, will nominate candidates for Judge and Prosecuting Attorney, where vacancies exist.

The several counties are entitled to send Delegates to the State Convention as follows:

UNION COUNTY CONVENTION

All persons who have been and are in favor of maintaining the supremacy of the Constitution and Laws of the United States, and the integrity of the Union of the States, are requested to meet in the several precincts to choose Delegates to a Union County Convention for Multnomah County, to be held on Saturday, the 24th day of March, A. D. 1866, at the hour of 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Court House in said County, to nominate Delegates to the State Convention, Candidates for the Legislature and County Officers for said County, and to transact such other business as may be properly brought before the Convention.

It is respectfully recommended that the several precinct meetings be held at the places of voting in each precinct on Saturday, the 20th day of March, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

The [illegible] have adopted the basis of representation [illegible] by the State Central Committee, viz: the H[illegible] vote of June, A. D., 1864.

The several precincts are entitled to the following number of Delegates to the County Convention: North Portland, 16; South Portland, 22; Willamette, 2; Powell's Valley, 2; Sandy, 2; East Portland, 3; St. John's, 1; Sauvies, 1; Multnomah, 2.

C. RIGBY,

The Validity of the Amendment Denied.

The declaration is often made that the slavery question is settled for all time. If the Union party shall remain in power in a majority of the States, the question is settled; if the Democratic party shall regain power within the next ten years, the agitation of the same old question will surely be resumed. The well known position of the Democratic party on the subject of State rights, fully warrants the belief that if it recovers possession of the government of the States and of the nation, it will declare the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery to be violative of the reserved rights of the States affected by it, and therefore void. In this way that party will find an excuse for again setting up for worship in the temple of Democracy their old ebon idol. Without slavery the Democratic party for the last thirty years would have been nothing. The hope of re-establishing the institution to which the party has been so [illegible] devoted, is a principal incentive with them to further efforts for political success. If the Democracy could on any pretext revive slavery and stop the payment of the rebel debt, they would consider themselves fully compensated for all their losses, and even for the failure of the rebellion.

The Kentucky Legislature already denies the validity of the Constitutional Amendment. In the first place it is urged that the Amendment was ratified by the Southern States under compulsion; therefore the proceeding was invalid. In the next place it is claimed that the Amendment was binding on no State that did not ratify it. Kentucky's right to have slavery was a reserved right which could not be infringed on. One of the members, Cochrane, of Shelby county, went still further. He denied the power of amending the Constitution so as to destroy slavery. Slavery was an inherent State right above the Constitution. If every State in the Union were to ratify the amendment, it still would not be binding upon Kentucky. And the man who would favor this measure was as much a rebel as Jeff. Davis. Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson were as much, if not more, traitors to the Government than Jeff. Davis. The country was nothing more or less than an empire, with President Johnson as Dictator. When the President used the army to destroy slavery he was in open rebellion against the Government. He hoped the resolution would be voted down, and it was voted down—yeas 15, nays 19.

Precisely similar was the spirit of the opposition in the Legislature of this State at the late [illegible]. It is everywhere the sentiment of the Democratic party.

The New York Day Book, one of the principal journals of the Democracy, publishes the following, which is copied approvingly by the Review of Salem:

> The pretended amendment is a mere sham. No honest court will ever hold it binding. In the Northern States it has been rushed through under popular excitement. At the South it has been forced upon the people against their solemn protests.

To the same effect are the words of the State Rights Democrat of last week:

> It must naturally occur to the common sense of [illegible] that, if these States are emasculated of their Statehood, and were at the time of the vote upon the amendment, and are yet, deprived of the rights pertaining to States of the Union, their votes upon the amendment were vain and impotent, and, per consequence, the requisite number of actual States having failed to ratify, the amendment in question is not constitutionally added to the instrument—that it is void, worthless and of no effect.

These extracts plainly reveal the intention of the Democratic party to set aside the Constitutional amendment if possible. The whole question of slavery will be revised if that party again comes into power.

AN EDITOR WANTS A SCHOOL HOUSE.—The Lafayette Courier (Andy Shunk's organ) wants a "school house" built in the town in which its editor is permitted to stay. We are very friendly to school houses generally, but we fear the establishment of a school at Lafayette would quite spoil the literature of the Courier. We should have no more of such phrases as "that miserable penchant, the bantling of a small mind," we should miss such words as "nominal" from the vocabulary, and lose forever such elegant orthography as we see in "abstruce," "enjendering," "illitterate," &c. Had we a voice in the matter we should be very reluctant to give it in favor of a school house at Lafayette.

HOW TRUE!—The Copperhead paper at Lafayette says the "Democracy was seized with hydrophobia in 1861." This remark is, of course to be taken in its literal sense. It is inaccurate, however, in one small particular. The party had a wonderful dread of water long before 1861. We are quite sure the Lafayette editor's hydrophobia is of longer standing than five years.

The Stockton (Cal.) Daily Independent has commenced its tenth volume. The vigor and ability which it displays make it rank among the very best journals in California. It has done, and is still doing, most effectual service for the national cause.

WASHINGTON, Feb 20.—In the House this morning Stevens, of Pennsylvania, from the joint committee reported a resolution declaring that in order to close agitation upon the question which seems likely to disturb the action of the Government as well as to quiet uncertainty which exists in the minds of the people of the eleven States declared to be in insurrection, no Senators or Representatives shall be admitted into Congress from either of the said States until Congress shall have declared such States entitled to such representation. Upon this Stevens demanded the previous question, and much excitement followed, with dilatory motions to stave off a vote.

Eldridge, of Wisconsin, said if the other side would allow debate his side would stop.

Stevens, of Pennsylvania replied that he had sat here forty eight hours when the rebels were out and could not stand it thirty six hours longer.

Dilatory motions continued till 7.15, p. m., when the resolution passed 109 against 40. Adjourned.

As soon as the Senate met Wade, of Ohio, offered a resolution to amend the Constitution providing the President shall be ineligible for a second term.

Rumor says both Stanton and Harlan will resign in consequence of the veto.

WASHINGTON, Feb 20.—The Presidents veto Message is all the talk. The first remark of everybody is that the President did not write it. The next remark is that the President has separated from the majority in Congress and gone over to the other side. All agree that the Message is most ably written, admirable in argument and with incontrovertable points. The common belief is that Seward wrote or revised it, hence comes the suspicion as to how the Cabinet stood, and report says that Seward, McCulloch, Welles and Dennison favored the veto, the others opposing. The effect here is marked. Both joy and anger and perhaps dismay are exhibited. It is only too apparent that the breach is widening between the President and the party. Whether it is too wide for either to jump across or whether either is disposed to jump remains to be seen. The veto having been addressed to the Senate the question comes up at once whether the bill should pass over the veto. Lost—ayes, 30; noes, 18; not two thirds. The question cannot, therefore, reach the House. The veto having been put on general grounds no attempt will be made to pass another freedmen's bill. The whole question of reconstruction becomes muddled. It is doubtful if the President will sign the civil rights bill, pending in the House. It is more doubtful since Sumner's radical opposition if the Constitutional Amendment passes the Senate. Speaking plainly, things are mixed.

A miscellaneous crowd, headed by Judge Hughes, of Indiana, Green, Clay, Smith, and George Francis Train, with a band of music, serenaded the President last night in honor of the veto Message. The President did not respond.

Last Saturday General Grant issued an order requiring military commanders in the South to report the names of the newspapers having a pernicious influence that the same might be by him suppressed.

Yesterday the President in effect revoked the order by allowing the Richmond Examiner to resume publication.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—On account of the excitement attending the veto, the usual Presidential reception was not held last evening.

The character of those who serenaded the President Monday night may be judged by the circumstance that the prominent leaders of the crowd walked up to the bar at Willards' and with great parade drank a toast to the three greatest Americans: Jefferson Davis, Andrew Johnson and Robert E. Lee.

The following are the ayes and noes in the Senate on the passage of the bill over the veto: Ayes—Anthony, Brown, Chandler, Clark, Conness, Cragin, Cresswell, Crittenden, Fowler, Grimes, Harris, Henderson, Howard, Howe, Kirkwood, Lane, of Indiana, Lane, of Kansas, Nye, Pollard, Pomeroy, Morrill, Ramsey, Sherman, Sprague, Sumner, Trumbull, Wade, Williams, Wilson, Yates.

Noes—Buckalew, Cowan, Davis, Dixon, Doolittle, Guthrie, Hendricks, Johnson, McDougal, Morgan, Nesmith, Norton, Riddle, Salisbury, Stewart, Stockton, Van Winkle and Bulkley.

Except that the veto has demonstrated there is not a two-thirds majority in the Senate, the President has gained nothing. The majority of thirty against him is stronger than ever.

The reconstruction committee although prepared to report favorably on the admission of Tennessee, has postponed all action on the case, and it is doubtful if any Southern State will be admitted this Congress.

Benj Wade in a speech yesterday denounced the President and said that any one who would favor the admission of the unwashed traitors to Congress was himself a traitor at heart.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The following are the editorial comments on the Presidents veto in the Chicago Tribune, which paper says: "Since the closing scenes of the war and the sad horrors of the assassination of President Lincoln no event has created such a profound sensation as the formal act by which the President has severed himself from the loyal party and united with its enemies North and South before the Union is safe or the war fully ended. The Presidents veto will at least have one good effect, namely, in according conclusive proof to doubting souls of Johnson's recreancy to the great cause for which our people laid down their lives and their property, and convincing our citizens by the logic of a most ugly fact of the backsliding of their Chief Magistrate."

The Chicago Republican says: "The country will learn with amazement that the President has vetoed an Act whose title might justly have been an Act to force a bill of rights on that issue (?) He appeals to the people from the decision of Congress. There is no doubt Congress will gladly and unhesitatingly accept the challenge and the people will sustain them."

The Chicago Times says: "This veto assures the country that the radicals are impotent against the President, so good men may breathe freer. The country has been saved a great calamity. It is safe against similar calamities in future. There has been a sublime triumph of right over wrong."

The Washington Chronicle says: "The veto is the cause for universal solicitude. The surrender of Lee was only the beginning of the rebellion. A defeated traitor threatens again to bring a triumphant dictator even from his strong cell in Fortress Monroe."

The New York Tribune says: "We deeply regret the veto and think the President will live to regret it even more deeply."

The New York World says: "President Johnson has nobly sustained his character for steadiness of purpose and political courage."

The New York Times says: "The veto implies no essential difference of opinion between the majority in Congress on the primary object of the bill, but he seeks to reach the end arrived at by other and what he deems less radical agencies."

NEW HAVEN, Feb 20.—Democrats here are firing guns and otherwise jubilating over the President's veto.

WASHINGTON, Feb 21.—In the House to-day, Garfield, of Ohio caused to be read a telegram from Columbus, Ohio, giving a resolution adopted by the caucus of the Union members of the Legislature, sustaining the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

The House, by a vote of 108 against 37, laid on the table a motion to reconsider the vote by which was passed the resolution that no Senator or Representative shall be admitted into either branch of Congress from any of the late rebellious States until Congress shall have first declared such States entitled to representation. The House Committee on Territories have applied to Secretary Stanton for permission to summon General P. E. Connor, commanding the forces in Utah, and Rev. Norman M'Leod, pastor of the Gentile church in Salt Lake City to appear and testify touching the condition of Utah and the manner in which the laws of the United States are observed and enforced. Judge Titus and a number of other witnesses have already been examined. It is stated semi-officially that the Government has decided to appoint no more polygamists to office.

WASHINGTON, Feb 21.—The Senate Committee on the District of Columbia have decided to report the House bill conferring negro suffrage in the District, and recommend its immediate passage. Morrill, of Vermont, in the House, speaking upon the finance bill said it was not in order to allude to what had recently taken place in the Senate, but happen what may Union men will not forget that they have a country to save. He proceeded to explain the financial situation. Further consideration of the bill was postponed.

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb 20.—The Democracy had a jubilation over the veto this afternoon firing over one hundred guns. Vallandigham made a brief speech showing that the Democracy did not elect President Johnson but now, their duty is to stand by him. He announced a mass meeting for exultation. A flag floats from Vallandigham's window.

CHICAGO, Feb 21, p. m.—Private advices give a rumor that preparations are being made to impeach President Johnson for mal administration of office upon the specific charge of misdemeanor under section 4 of article second of the Constitution. The particular specification is the abuse of power in the reconstruction of the rebel States and pardon before trial of high rebel functionaries. The House has power to draw a bill of impeachment to be tried before the Senate, Chief Justice Chase Presiding. The movers in the matter consider that a healthy example may be made for all future Presidents.

Ohio Sanctions her Representatives

COLUMBUS, Feb 20.—A caucus held to night of the Union members of the legislature unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that in the action of the Union Representatives in Congress we recognize a possession of the principles that made us a party and saved the country through the late rebellion, and we tender such representatives our hearty support. The democratic members of the legislature hold a caucus to night and indorse President Johnson's veto.

Fenian Congress.

PITTSBURGH, Pennsylvania, Feb 21.—The Fenian Congress was permanently organized yesterday by the election of Col Matthew Murphy Speaker of the House, P. S. Pottsford of Philadelphia, Secretary and Captain Mallon, of Pittsburg, Sergeant at Arms. The two houses then went into joint session, James Gibbon, President, in the Chair.

The Message of President Roberts and the report of Secretary Sweeny are to be transmitted to day.

Shipping and Commercial News.

NEW YORK, Feb 21.—The Henry Chauncey, from Aspinwall, Feb 13 has arrived.

The steamer Colorado sailed from Panama Feb 10, for San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Feb 21.—The Herald's Rio Janeiro correspondent says agents of the Southern Emigrant Association have been cordially received by the Emperor of Brazil. They are promised any quantity of lands, immediate citizenship, freedom of religion, control of municipal regulations and free importation for five years of all necessary articles.

NEW YORK, Feb 21.—A moderate demand prevails for wool. Sales of 200,000 lbs of western fleeces at 50@75cts, 50,000 lbs fall clip California at 26@36cts. The market for hides is more active. Sales are partly for speculation, but mostly to supply the demands of consumers. There is a diminishing stock and full prices are realized. Sales Buenos Ayres 22,000 lbs average 19¼ cts in gold. California dry wool commands full prices. Wheat—inactive at declining prices. Tallow—dull at 11½ cts for prime. Atlantic Mail 125. Pacific Mail 190.

General News

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The Commercial's special dispatch says: The rumors of Cabinet changes appear well founded. Secretary Stanton's friends say he will not resign, but the President's friends say there must be a new Secretary of War.

Panama advices of February 11th, per steamer Henry Chauncey say a company of California miners had arrived en route to prospect the gold mines on the Isthmus. Rich discoveries are reported eighteen miles from Panama and two miles from the railroad.

Valparaiso advices of January 18th and Callao advices of January 16th, confirm the declaration of war by Peru against Spain, but say hostilities had not yet commenced.

This evening's Commercial's money article says: The large sales of gold by the Sub-Treasury continue to affect the money market sharply. Some banks are finding themselves pinched by the large checks drawn to purchase gold. Inquiry for call loans this morning is quite active at 7 per cent. The stringency of the money market though temporary, has depressed the stock board to day. Considerable sales are being made to realize at an average of one per cent lower.

To morrow being a loyal holiday, all business will be suspended.

NEW YORK, Feb 21.—The Evening Express says: Ben Butler has paid Smith Bros., of New Orleans, $80,000 in gold that was taken from their bank, together with all costs of legal proceedings, in the aggregate over $150,000.

NEW YORK, Feb 22.—The Times' special says that Mr Hassaurek the Minister to Ecuador, had sent in his resignation to the State Department, and there are already four or five applicants for the succession, all from Ohio.

The official reports of Chief Engineers Danby, Fithian and Kellogg, appointed by the Navy Department to conduct the competitive experiments of the Winooski and Algonquin has been published. It declares that the contractors for the machinery of the Algonquin failed in every guarantee, and that the vessel is unfit for naval service. It also states that the vessel did not steer well.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The House resolution, that Congress will not admit the Southern representation, comes up in the Senate on Friday.

The opposition developed against the loan bill in the House to-day was headed by Stevens and Kelly and is likely to defeat it.

Both houses passed the bill to aid the Western Union Telegraph Company, directing the Secretary of the Navy to place a steamer at the service of the company, to assist to lay the cable.

The Senate committee on Territories reported a bill to extend the boundaries of the State of Nevada, thereby wiping out the Territory of Utah.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Freights are dull and depressed. Arrived at Boston on the 19th, the ships Black Hawk and Orion from San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The steamer New York sailed to day for Aspinwall with three hundred troops for San Francisco.

CHICAGO, Feb 22.—Important political conventions and public meetings are being held to-day at Washington, Indianapolis, St. Louis, New York, Nashville, Louisville, etc., all of which will make their declarations on the President's policy. Particular attention attaches to the Republican State Convention of Indiana.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Gen. Grant is at the Metropolitan Hotel, and the reception preparing for this evening will be a grand affair.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The latest Mexican news announces the imprisonment of the responsible editors of the Corrective newspaper for an alleged violation of the Imperial press laws. Other journals have been notified that they would be suppressed unless they changed their tone. General Pierron, Imperialist, has been appointed to the command of Sinaloa. The railroad in course of construction between Puebla and Mexico is expected to be completed by May next.

NEW YORK, Feb 22.—The Banquet given to the American Minister at Moscow, in acknowledgment of the courtesies shown the Russian fleet in the waters of the United States was a grand affair. Mr. Clay, the United States Minister, responded in a suitable manner, and Mr Curtin, the Secretary of Legation, spoke of the Russian American or Western Union telegraph as an uncommon achievement binding the two countries together and expressed the hope that good fellowship will always prevail. At the conclusion of his speech, Mr. Curtin was seized and kissed by every Russian present.

HAPPINESS OR MISERY?

THAT IS THE QUESTION.

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE "PACIFIC MUSEUM OF ANATOMY AND SCIENCE," have determined, regardless of expense, to issue FREE (for the benefit of suffering humanity) four of their most interesting and instructive LECTURES, on MARRIAGE, and its disqualifications: Nervous Debility, Premature Decline of Manhood, Indigestion, Weakness or Depression, Loss of Energy and Vital Power, the great Social Evil, and those maladies that result from youthful follies, excesses of maturity, or ignorance of Physiology and Nature's Laws.

These invaluable Lectures have been the means of enlightening and saving thousands, and will be forwarded FREE on receipt of Twenty five cents in postage stamps, by addressing Secretary Pacific Museum of Anatomy and Science, at the Eureka Theatre, Montgomery street, San Francisco.

THE TWENTY SECOND IN PORTLAND.—The weather, which has been most [illegible] on the [illegible] about Portland for some considerable length of time past, continued fine yesterday and [illegible] there were [illegible] of the birth of Washington [illegible] of Washington [illegible] with the upright and [illegible] Washington [illegible] made [illegible] comparison except with those of the lamented President Lincoln. February has given to this nation a Founder and a Restorer, and ought to be peculiarly sacred [illegible] name. Abraham Lincoln was born on the 12th, Washington on the 22d. It is especially becoming, therefore, that the people who enjoy the fruit of the patriotic labors of Washington and Lincoln in their behalf should turn their attention from their ordinary pursuits [illegible] upon the grand examples of these illustrious men.

ARRIVAL OF THE 14TH INFANTRY BAND

The steamer Fannie Troup arrived from Fort Vancouver at 10½ A. M., bringing the band of the 14th Infantry. A large concourse of citizens were at the Washington street wharf to meet them, and after the boat had landed the band, under lead of Prof. Adams, sought the balcony of the Lincoln House, where they enlivened the throng with three of their fine pieces of music. There is no much wonder that the 14th Infantry band creates a sensation whenever they arrive in Portland.

THE PARADE

At two o'clock P. M. the Band of the 14th Infantry formed in front of the armory of the Washington Guard, and were followed by that Company to the armory of the Fenian Guard, Capt. McCormick, when they also fell into line, and thus formed marched through the principal streets, presenting a fine appearance and attracting no small amount of attention. The Washington Guard numbered about forty men in gray uniform, the Fenian Guard about the same number in blue uniform, the band was composed of 20 persons in full uniform and all together was really very attractive. We should judge that not less than 2,000 persons watched the [illegible] as it rounded into Front street from Washington street. The movement of the Militia was very well indeed, considering their limited drill. The only complaint appeared to be that there was not enough of them, but for this we must allow our citizens are much to blame themselves. Young men ought to enter the ranks of our Militia; it gives them lessons worth something to them, and adds materially to a display on public [illegible].

SECOND ANNUAL BALL OF THE WASHINGTON GUARD

The Washington Guard, Company B, O. V. M., Capt. Mills, had made ample preparation for their second annual ball, to take place in the evening at the Lincoln House. The hall was most handsomely decorated with evergreens, festoons of the American Flag, etc. On entering the hall from the office of the hotel, the first thing that attracted the notice of the visitor, or participant on this occasion was two large sized portraits, one of Washington, surmounted with large gilt letters in the words "FREEDOM'S DEFENDER," the other of Lincoln, similarly surmounted with the words "FREEDOM'S PRESERVER," between which stood out boldly the American Eagle framed in a festoon of the flag of the Nation, and surrounded with the arms of O[illegible]. On the right of this, in the centre of the hall on the south side, was another rich emblem of [illegible], the American Flag and the American Eagle, arched above a portrait of Henry Clay, Pate's plate of the Union, and a portrait of Washington blending with which was a small memento framed in gilt, from the New York funeral car of President Lincoln, which was followed by 100,000 mourners in procession and witnessed by 1,000,000 [illegible], on the 25th of April, 1865. [illegible] this, on the north side of the hall, was finely arranged the music stand, where the 14th Infantry Band provided the large assembly with music [illegible]. A better assembly perhaps never congregated in Oregon than met together on this occasion, and [illegible] more enjoyment could ever have followed the [illegible] was evinced last evening. The supper [illegible] could desire, was furnished in the dining [illegible] same floor, where 150 persons were comfortably [illegible] at one time. The dancing hall accommodated all, and we may say the Second Annual Ball of the Washington Guard was a most decided success, and thus [illegible] a most excellent day in Portland, long to be [illegible].

CITY IMPROVEMENTS.—Notwithstanding the croakings of a [illegible] hard times, the general appearance of things about this city does not indicate anything of th[illegible] kind. New buildings are springing into existence all about us. On Third street one day last week, the owner of a vacant lot who lives in the country, and who has been in the habit of driving his team in front of the same, [illegible] until he transacted the business that had called him in the city, was bothered to find his premises. He drove along down the street leisurely until he came to [illegible] street, when he stopped his team on the crossing [illegible] before him a large new building about 50 [illegible], and a new dwelling close by it, with piles of brick and lumber all about, the trees trimmed and thinned out, and on the opposite side an old land mark removed, he was completely lost. He was almost in doubt as to the identity of an old neighbor, who happened along, but was finally posted correctly as to the state of things in that vicinity, but yet it did not seem natural to him. The large building was a new blacksmith shop for Mr. [illegible]. The old land mark removed was for the purpose of giving room for a fine residence to be built by Mr. Porter, and for the length of several streets such [illegible] are of almost daily occurrence. We have no means of ascertaining anywhere near the amount of [illegible] to be done in Portland this year, but making a rough calculation, we think half a million dollars will come below the cost of this class of improvement.

LIBERAL FELLOWS.—These New York general advertising agents generally are a liberal set of chaps. Jacob Lewis, "one of them," makes us the following proposition: "Please insert the card! All advertisement in your paper for one year, one square, and charge your regular rates [illegible], and we will send you a due bill on the [illegible] payable in board. This is one of the most comfortable, convenient and best located houses in this city, and we [illegible] the due bill as good as the money." The [illegible] is so ridiculous that we are inclined to [illegible] that Jacob Lewis has more sense than to suppose we would accept, but he [illegible] calculated that his [illegible] the cause of bringing into notoriety the [illegible], the name of which we have suppressed. [illegible] the due bill as good as the money. Having no use for the due bill payable in board, we hereby suggest [illegible] for the money in such transactions.

ARRIVAL.—The steamship Sierra Nevada, Connor [illegible], arrived last night at 10 o'clock, three days from San Francisco. The following are the passengers: Gen. F Steele & two servants, Col R P Strong, Maj H G Nives, J A Packard, E Schyler, J D Van[illegible], M Leopold, R Cook, F G Rick, L Openheimer, A Hyatt, M M Harvey, D D W[illegible], F G Drake, R Bohen, J Bohen, Jno Isler, S R Martin, E W John & wife, T H Lewis, T B Trevett & wife, O C Phillips, John Lane, W H Dewey, Miss Beseeiles, J C Miller, H W Miles, Wm Flanders, R Pope, [illegible] Rapp, wife and three children, O C[illegible], W M Ab[illegible], C W Weigand, O Soons, S Sankey, G D Dankin, S Levi, J Dickerson, wife and niece, J Johnson and wife, G W Hoyt and wife, A Dunning and wife, L S Scott, Miss F A Dunn, M V Thompson, Mrs Chivenear, J Wing[illegible] and 35 in steerage.

EXCURSION TO SALEM.—A large number of our citizens have paid the Capital a visit the last few days. Yesterday the deck of the [illegible] was crowded with excursionists, who were accompanied by the Mechanics' Brass Band, on a trip to Salem. Those who have returned from the trip speak highly of the gratifying influence of a visit to the Capital, where they were handsomely treated by the hospitable people there.

W[illegible] THEATER.—The management of the above place of amusement having been unable to produce the spectacle of [illegible] Brown on Monday night, which caused its postponement in order to render it every way attractive and satisfactory to the audience, now announce that the [illegible] will be open this evening.

THE WALLA WALLA HOMICIDE.—Parties in this city have received intelligence from Walla Walla which states that the cause of Donahue killing Patterson was on account of a threat Patterson had made to take the life of Donahue, who had arrested P[illegible] a few days previous to the killing.

HOME AGAIN.—Among the passengers arriving last night was Mr. G. W. Hoyt and wife. George looks well and appears to have enjoyed his trip to the East very much.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—DEADY J.—Feb. 22d, 1866. No [illegible] were had, in consequence of the day being the anniversary of the birth of Washington.

MESSAGES.—Two messages for Jas. B. Gould are uncalled for at the telegraph office.

TELEGRAMS.—There are two messages at the telegraph office for J. B. Gould.

YAMHILL COUNTY.—The Courier says:

Petitions are in circulation for a tri-weekly mail service between Oregon City and Lafayette. It is to be hoped the project will meet with favor at Washington. Judge Steward informs us that Mr. H[illegible], our Mail Agent, will interest himself in our behalf, and that Captain Miller will perform the [illegible] service at very reasonable rates. There is no valid reason why we should not have it.

We notice some buildings already in process of erection in town, and are told that several others will go up early in the season.

MAIL THROUGH EASTERN OREGON.—The indications are that the contract will soon be awarded for carrying the mails from the Dalles to Canyon City and beyond. The Department at Washington advertises to receive bids until the 28th inst. Mr. Brooks, special Postal Agent, while at the Dalles a few days ago, received several proposals for the service, and has forwarded them by telegraph to Washington. It is expected that the response of the Department will be received in a short time.

FOOT RACE.—We learn that a foot race came off at Oakland on the 17th inst. J. E. Rice, of Douglas county, and George Williams, of Jacksonville, were the contestants. The race was for $100 a side; distance, eighty yards. Williams won by two feet six inches.

Some crazy fellows in Indiana have called a resurrection of the Democratic party in the way of a State Convention, to meet on the 15th of March. The delegates are expected to appear in shrouds.

ADDITIONAL NEWS BY TELEGRAPH

France and the United States—Further from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Secretary Seward's dispatch to Minister Bigelow forwarded by the last steamer is published. It contains severe comments upon and a denial of the assertion in the Emperor's speech that the United States was originally invited to join in the Mexican intervention.

The Freedmen's bureau must be created May 1st, according to the bill, the original act that being one year from the date mentioned by the President as the end of the war. The President's veto having been based on the general grounds of the unconstitutionality of legislation affecting the Southern States while the said States are not represented, it is difficult to see how any other bill can be framed to meet the exigency. There are rumors, however, of attempts to try it again in some other shape.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Washington's birthday will be celebrated in this city to-morrow by military parade, all closing of the public offices and a general suspension of business.

James Welsh, who has been indicted for complicity in the What Cheer House robbery, was arraigned to day and pleaded not guilty.

The suit of John Pinkerton vs. R. B. Woodward was decided last evening by the jury rendering a verdict for the plaintiff for $10,757 20 stolen at the time of the great robbery.

A prominent firm in New York to-day says Congress has decided to adopt two dollars excise tax on whisky. The available supply in New York is said to be very light and shipments in this direction have about ceased.

There is a brisk competition among the Portland steamer lines to-day, and the rates of freight have been reduced and there are unusually heavy shipments. The prices of passage are fifteen dollars first cabin and five dollars in the steerage. The rate of freight is three dollars per ton. The competition steamers will take immense cargoes on Saturday. There is also a fair amount of freight offering for Victoria, and we learn that the departure of the steamer Labouchere is postponed till Friday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—T. C. Sanborn was held in the sum of $1,500 to answer the charge of obtaining goods under false pretences.

L. J. Thistram recovered a verdict against R. B. Underward, for $2,800 stolen at the time of the What Cheer robbery.

The anniversary of Washington's Birthday was very generally observed in this city to day. The Courts, and public offices, both State and National, are closed and business suspended. There was a very full turn out of the Second Brigade, C. S. M., Gen. Hewston, which presented a fine appearance. The troops were received by Governor Low and staff, on Howard street, between 10 and 11 o'clock, in the presence of thousands of spectators.

A telegram from New York says the steamship Colorado was to leave Panama for this port on the 16th inst, which would make her due here about the 3d of March. It is probably an error, as no report of the detention of the Colorado at Panama has been received at the company's office in this city, although a telegram was received from New York yesterday after the Henry Chauncy had arrived there.

The Committee appointed to confer with the citizens of Portland relative to a route via the Columbia River to Montana Territory have reported favorably on the route from White Bluffs on the Columbia River, via Pen d'Oreille Lake. The distance from White Bluffs, on the Columbia River, a point to which boats can always run, when not prevented by ice, to the Pen d'Oreille Lake, is 160 miles, and a good wagon road. On the Lake a steamer is now being built and will be completed about the first of April. The machinery of this boat was freighted over this proposed road during the month of December last, and will navigate the Lake a distance of 65 miles through the mountains to Cabinet Landing, from which point to the Blackfoot Mines is 220 miles, the whole distance, with the exception of 60 miles from Cabinet Landing towards Blackfoot, is a good wagon road.

The people of Portland have examined the above route, and propose in conjunction with the business men of San Francisco to raise enough money to complete the above mentioned sixty miles of road. This will bring San Francisco in communication by steam and stage with Helena in ten days, and freight can be sent through in thirty days at 15 cents per pound.

The steamer Ajax, twelve days from Honolulu, arrived here at 1 P. M. to-day. The steamer J. L. Stephens, four days from Mazatlan, arrived to-day noon.

PRESERVE THE PARTY ORGANIZATION.—A notice appears in this morning's paper whereby Mr. H. W. Davis announces himself independent candidate for Sheriff of Multnomah county. Of course it is the right of any person to present himself as a candidate; and it is the equal right of others to oppose him and state the reasons therefor. An important election is to be held in June. It is of vital concern to the State that the Union party shall meet with a complete triumph. The voters of the party are soon to meet in Convention in the several counties, to make choice of those whom they desire to place in official positions. Union men who desire to be candidates should refer their claims to these Conventions, and if the people are favorably disposed toward them they will receive nominations. If the people do not pronounce for them in the primary meetings and Conventions, it is a pretty good indication that they are not wanted for office. Therefore it will rarely occur that one who cannot obtain a nomination in Convention will succeed in an election. By placing himself in the field as a candidate he causes discontent among certain members of the party to which he professes to belong (for almost every person has his immediate friends)—without having the smallest or remotest chance of ultimate success. Such a course is calculated to distract and weaken the party; hence we take the liberty of saying that it ought to be discountenanced. The Union party of Oregon should work in the coming canvass with a united will and for a common purpose. The general good and triumphant success of the party should be sought by all. It were better for a few aspirants to fail in obtaining the places they seek, than for the party to meet with defeat through their disobedience to the will of the majority of its members.

We hope therefore that Union men will all join in making nominations in the regular way, and that all will work for the success of the regular nominees—paying no regard to others.

Montana Items

From the Helena (Montana) Radiator of the 13th ult., we get the annexed items:

A gentleman arrived in this city, on Wednesday last, who left Haines' ferry, on Pen d'Oreille Lake, Dec. 12th. He reports the road in horrid condition, snow deep and the trail hard to find. Three pack trains were caught in the storms at the mouth of Park river, where they left their cargoes, and escaped with a portion of their animals to the Spokane, the balance having perished on the way. Further along this way he saw many horses that had given out and been left, and were keeping alive on browse; but as they nearly all had sore backs and were very weak, it was impossible for them to keep the magpies of which there are immense flocks all along the route, from tormenting them to death by alighting on their backs, tearing and lacerating the old sores, and seeming determined to deprive the poor creatures of their little remaining flesh. He also met five men, who had endeavored to cross the Coeur d'Alene mountains, and, failing in that, had lost their way in attempting to reach the Pen d'Oreille. After wandering about for some time, they finally came out near Horse Prairie, where they obtained a small quantity of flour from the Indians, having previously been obliged to kill and eat a very poor Cayuse horse to sustain life.

No definite and reliable news has yet been re[illegible]coveries from the new diggings. Their location is a mystery, even some claiming that they are on Sun River about fifteen miles north of the Fort Benton road, while others locate them on the Missouri about seven miles above the mouth of Sun River. This we know that some two or three thousand people are wandering around in the neighborhood of Sun River in search of them. Parties have been in town, who profess to have been there, and say no big prospects have been obtained, but those have invariably brought provisions and returned.

The stranger on entering any of the mining camps of this region on either side of the divide, is apt to be puzzled to know what is meant by the words "winter ranch" as he sees them posted up on the sign boards and ranch advertisements. Know then, that there are spots in this country so sheltered from the winds that sometimes prevail here that the snow is not blown off and consequently such places are not "winter ranches" and that those who are fortunate enough to have located in more exposed situations are able to pasture stock in winter. During the cold storms, stock shelter in the willows and rocky points, and when the plains are blown bare, come out and graze on pasture equal in richness to the blue grass fields of Kentucky in midsummer. As an illustration, we may mention the mule trains of Messrs. Keeler & Newcomb, Ben Fletcher and Bill Simmons in Deer Lodge valley; these mules were worked up to, and after the middle of December. Since which time, they have actually gained in flesh notwithstanding the extreme severity of the weather, large herds of cattle and sheep belonging to Rushin & King, Grant Parks and others are doing well in the same locality. On this side of the range, Jones & Dalton are wintering their train of one hundred mules with equally good success. There are also beef cattle and ox teams without number, running on the Prickly Pear, Jefferson, Gallatin, Missouri and their thousand tributaries, kicking up their heels, perfectly defiant at storms and regardless of the fact that the thermometer is liable at any day to run down to 40° below zero. A great institution are the Winter Ranches of Montana.

We understand that a one fourth interest in the Sultan quartz mill and lode property has been sold this week for twenty thousand dollars; also, that another one fourth brought sixteen thousand dollars. This is pretty good for a starter, and, judging from the richness of our quartz and what this enterprising company has demonstrated in regard to it, we can anticipate the pleasing duty of chronicling transactions in Edgerton county quartz running into hundreds of thousands.

We are informed by Budd McAdow, who has just arrived from Gallatin, that the Crow Indians in following up the buffalo, drove them to within thirty miles of Gallatin and the inhabitants taking advantage of the circumstance, went out and slew them by hundreds. It is also remarkable that, on the side hills, elk are to be seen as thick as sheep. We believe this is the first time that Indians drove meat to a white man's market in Montana.

Horses are rather high in this market at present. A steed of the Cayuse or Bronco pedigree, a little larger than a rat, goes readily at from $60 to $80. A month ago, they could be bought for half that price. Advance in horse flesh is attributed to the recent stampedes.

S. T.—1860—X.
Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy gentle stimulant is required.
They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.
Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle or selling any other material therein whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.
In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure [illegible], exists in no other medicine yet discovered.
The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

THE PRESIDENTS.—Andrew Johnson completed his fifty seventh year on the 29th of December last. Of the seventeen Presidents of the United States four came into office in the fifty seventh year of their age namely Jefferson Madison John Quincy Adams, and Andrew Johnson Five between the age of fifty and sixty Washington, John Q Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Van Buren, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore Lincoln and Johnson Jackson was sixty one when elected, Harrison sixty seven, Buchanan, sixty six John Adams sixty three Pierce was elected at forty-eight Next to Pierce Lincoln was the youngest man ever elected President—being but fifty one, Harrison was the oldest, being sixty seven. Of the seventeen, eleven were of Southern birth, six of Northern but two of those born in the South—Harrison, born in Virginia, and Lincoln, in Kentucky—were residents of the North at the time of their election, and each perished before the expiration of his term of office—Harrison exactly one month after his inauguration, from the cares of State, and Lincoln a month and a few days after his second inauguration by the hand of an assassin. Five of the Presidents took an active part in the Revolutionary war and in the formation of the Government, namely Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, Madison, and Monroe. John Q. Adams, the sixth President, was but ten years old at the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, and graduated at Harvard two years before the present Constitution went into effect But four of the Presidents are now living Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan and Johnson. Three of them died on the Fourth of July John Adams, Jefferson, and Monroe—the first two (both signers of the Declaration of Independence half a century before) on the same day, July 4th, 1826—Adams, aged 91; Jefferson, 83. The respective ages of the four still living are Fillmore, 67; Pierce, 62; Buchanan, 75, Johnson 58 Fourteen of the seventeen were elected to the Presidency, and three succeeded to that office from the Vice Presidency:—Tyler, Fillmore, and Johnson. Eight were elected for but one term and six for two terms. Lincoln was the only President ever elected from a free State for the second term. Five Vice Presidents have risen from that office to the Presidency, three from the post of Secretary of State, and one from the British Ministry Not one from any other administrative department or from the Judiciary or Navy. Five Secretaries of State—all most distinguished statesmen, have aspired to the Presidency and been [illegible]. Four Presidents were distinguished as military commanders—Washington, Jackson, Harrison and Taylor, and the last three were [illegible] military prestige. All the rest were civilians who had taken each a large part in public affairs before their election to the first office of the nation. Not one of them has ever been so much as suspected of personal dishonor, of peculation in office, or of enriching himself at the public expense or of advancing his family through the influence of his station. On the whole, notwithstanding political differences of opinion and party bitterness, we may challenge the world for a parallel in rulers to the wisdom and virtue of these seventeen Presidents of the United States. In the best Governments of modern Europe, it is only at long intervals that there is a monarch governing for the good of the people and refraining from rapacity. In constitutional England, where the Prime Minister is virtually the ruler, peculation is not the exception, but the rule, and the office is more frequently used to further family interests and personal ambition than the good of the State In the Roman Republic the Consular authority was almost invariably [illegible] by avarice and ambition; and in the Empire, if we except the brief and golden age of Trajan, Hadrian and the two Antonines, there is nothing in public virtue to compare with even the worst of our Presidents, who must ever stand out in history as the paragons of a great nation, shaming the hoary lies of monarchists and vindicating the superiority of this [illegible] over all that have preceded it.

A RACE WITH A BULL.—Some forty years ago, the managers of a race course near Brownsville, on the Monongahela, published a notice of a race—one mile heats—on a particular day, for a purse of $100, "Free for anything with four legs and hair on." A man in the neighborhood, named Hayes had a bull that he was in the habit of riding to mill with his bag of corn, and he was determined to enter him for the race. He said nothing about it to any one, but he rode him around the track a number of times on several moonlight nights until the bull had the hang of the ground pretty well, and would keep the right course. He rode with spurs, which the bull considered disagreeable, so much so that he always bellowed when they were applied to his flanks.

On the morning of the race, Hayes came upon the ground on horseback—on his bull. Instead of a saddle he had a dried ox-hide, the head part of which, with the horns still on, he placed on the bull's rump. He carried a short tin horn in his hand. He rode to the judge's stand, and offered to enter his bull for the race; but the owners of the horses that were entered, objected.

He then appealed to the terms of the notice, insisting that his bull had "four legs and hair on," and that he had a right to enter him. After a good deal of swearing, the judges declared they were compelled to decide that the bull had the right to run, and was entered accordingly. When the time for starting arrived, the bull and horses took their places. The horse racers were out of [illegible] with the bull, and at the [illegible] which they supposed was intended, but thought it would be over as soon as the horses started. When the signal was given they did start. Hayes gave a blast of his horn, and sank his spurs into the flanks of the bull, which sprang off with a terrible bawl, the dried ox-hide flapping up and down, and rattling at every jump, making a combination of noises that were never heard on a race course before. The horses all flew from the track, every one seeming to be seized with a sudden determination to take the shortest cut to get out of the Redstone county, and not one of them could be brought back in time to save their distance. The purse was given to Hayes. A general row ensued; but the fun of the thing put the crowd on the side of the bull. The horsemen said that they had been swindled out of their purse, and that if it had not been for Hayes' horn and the ox-hide, which he ought [illegible] the [illegible], the thing would [illegible]. Upon this Hayes said [illegible] their horses [illegible] hundred dollars against the [illegible] he had won, he would take off the ox-hide and leave the tin-horn, and run a fair race with them. His offer was accepted and the [illegible]. They again took their places at the starting post, and the signal was given. Hayes gave the bull another touch with the spur, and he gave a tremendous bellow. The horses, remembering the dreadful sound, thought all the rest was coming as before. Away they went again in spite of the exertions of their riders, while Hayes galloped his bull around the track and won the money.

PERILOUS ADVENTURE AMONG GRIZZLIES AND WOLVES.—The Montana Post vouches for the following, which seems to throw into the shade the adventures of Colonel Crockett, and "Grizzly Adams:"

John Adams, of Bannock City, a thorough and unpretending gentleman of varied experience and travel, and one of our most substantial miners, has been the hero of an adventure among the ferocious animals of the Rocky Mountains that borders on the miraculous, in escape from personal peril, and the fortitude, in its thrilling details. Some two weeks since he went to the head of Salmon river, in Idaho, on a prospecting and hunting expedition, in company with three or four others. In his desire for game and adventure—both of which he finally got a surfeit—he frequently left his companions and took a circuitous course. One day he traveled in search of grizzlies, finding deer, the next day, in searching for deer, he came in contact with a huge grizzly Undismayed by the formidable size and hostile demonstrations of bruin, he leveled his Henry rifle (a 15 shooter) and fired The fierce monster simply growled in response to the report of the gun, and rushed towards his assailant with venom-flashing eyes! The shot was not fatal With nerves still equal to the fearful emergency the brave hunter again leveled his piece, fired and the grizzly fell, and soon lay lifeless before him. Starting towards his trophy, his attention was arrested by a crackling noise near by Looking in that direction, he beheld another huge grizzly, about thirty yards distant. Quickly aiming and firing off his rifle, the bullet, like the first, only inflicted a maddening wound The speed with which this bear made towards Adams prevented him from making a second stand, as he had done in the case of the first one, and he ran at the top of his speed for a tree When he reached it the bear was not more than twenty feet behind him Ascending about ten feet, he cast a hasty glance below; there was his mortal foe, standing upon its hind legs, with its paws against the body of the tree! In breathless suspense, he looked not down again until he ascended further and strapped himself to a limb. Imagine his horrified sensations when he then looked below to see the second grizzly joined by a third! Being then in position where he could use his rifle with deliberation, the second and third bears were soon stretched in death at the roots of the tree

Darkness was now closing around the scene and the hunter was about to descend when a troop of half famished wolves, attracted by the scent of blood gathered about the dead bears carcasses, and there held high carnival until morning dawned. [illegible] unpainted would suppose could not be sent up [illegible] regions Plutonian Up a tree on a high range of mountain with [illegible] with wet feet, the situation of Adams during this eventful night can be imagined more easily than described. He reached camp in the evening having been thirty six hours without food He came into town to replenish his stock of ammunition, and left for Salmon river [illegible] for more grizzlies If the records of Grizzly [illegible] Adams of California bear hunting [illegible] this adventure [illegible] friend Adams of Montana we will be interested in hearing the particulars

PHARAOH'S SERPENTS.—At a meeting of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain lately held at Edinburgh [illegible] the following [illegible] Dr S Macadam [illegible] ingredients [illegible] Pharaoh's serpents [illegible] large [illegible] poisonous [illegible] called the sulpho cyanide of mercury. The material is a double headed poisoned arrow for it contains two poisons [illegible] mercury and sulpho cyanic acid either of which will kill Experiments have been made by me upon the lower animals and I have found that [illegible] ball of a sixpenny Pharaoh's serpent is sufficient to poison a large sized rabbit in an hour and three quarters [illegible] also destroys life but takes longer to do so. They therefore [illegible] deadly [illegible] merely amusing and seeing that it can be purchased by every schoolboy and be brought home to the nursery it is rather alarming to think that there is enough of poison in one of these serpents to destroy the lives of three children

A REAL RELISHER OF A JOKE.—A man lately received twenty lashes well laid on at the whipping post in an English town. The culprit instead of bellowing when the constable applied the lash laughed immoderately which made the angry officer lay on with harder force. On giving him the twentieth blow the angry officer could stand it no longer.

"Well, here, mister," said the offended officer "I've done my duty and I can lick you no more but I'd just like to know what it is that's so funny?"

"Funny!" roared the other, "why, it's excellent. You've got the wrong Smith! I ain't the man that was to be whipped! It is the other one Now you'll have to do it all over again! Really, it's too good! You must lick the other man! Ha! ha!"

"What flower of beauty shall I marry?" said a young spendthrift to his miserly governor To which the governor replied with a grim smile "Marigold."

THE STANDARD
AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!
AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS
MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER
WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment
At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first class players of America It was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship as the best and only reliable tables
These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability
Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions
We employ in the construction of our tables a variety of machines specially made for this purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture
Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch
The eminent French Billiard Player M. Berger has published the following opinion:
"NEW YORK, 2d August, 1861
"On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that, after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the quality of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.
"BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."
Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price
Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "BILLIARD CUE," a journal published in the interest of Billiards and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news, and everything of interest to amateurs of billiards, sent free on application
M E HUGHES,
730 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed

General Remarks.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B except proprietary and playing card stamps for which a special use has been provided

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp An instrument subject to stamp duty but issued and used unstamped prior to August 1 1864, may be rendered valid by stamping it as required by section 163 of the Act of June 30, 1864; if issued since the enactment it falls under section 158 of said Act, as amended by the Act of March 3 1865

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than by writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c, in which cases these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

The jurat of an affidavit taken before a justice of the peace, notary public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings

Certificates of Loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument, that is to say for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and cancelled by either of them

In conveyances of real estate the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped

LUNG BALSAM!
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.
ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time

THE PRESIDENTS.—Andrew Johnson completed his fifty seventh year on the 29th of December last. Of the seventeen Presidents of the United States four came into office in the fifty seventh year of their age, namely Jefferson, Madison, John Quincy Adams, and Andrew Johnson. Eleven, between the age of fifty and sixty. Washington, John Q. Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Van Buren, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Lincoln, and Johnson. Jackson was sixty one when elected; Harrison, sixty seven; Buchanan, sixty six; John Adams sixty three. Pierce was elected at forty eight. Next to Pierce, Lincoln was the youngest man ever elected President—being but fifty one. Harrison was the oldest, being sixty seven. Of the seventeen, eleven were of Southern birth, six of Northern; but two of those born in the South—Harrison, born in Virginia, and Lincoln, in Kentucky—were residents of the North at the time of their election, and each perished before the expiration of his term of office—Harrison exactly one month after his inauguration from the cares of State, and Lincoln a month and a few days after his second inauguration, by the hand of an assassin. Five of the Presidents took an active part in the Revolutionary war, and in the formation of the Government, namely Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, Madison, and Monroe. John Q. Adams, the sixth President, was but ten years old at the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, and graduated at Harvard two years before the present Constitution went into effect. But four of the Presidents are now living: Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan and Johnson. Three of them died on the Fourth of July—John Adams, Jefferson, and Monroe—the first two (both signers of the Declaration of Independence half a century before) on the same day, July 4th, 1826—Adams, aged 91, Jefferson, 83. The respective ages of the four still living are, Fillmore, 67; Pierce, 62; Buchanan, 76; Johnson, 58. Fourteen of the seventeen were elected to the Presidency, and three succeeded to that office from the Vice Presidency: Tyler, Fillmore, and Johnson. Eight were elected for but one term and six for two terms. Lincoln was the only President ever elected from a free State for the second term. Five Vice Presidents have risen from that office to the Presidency, three from the post of Secretary of State, and one from the British Ministry. Not one from any other administrative department or from the Judiciary or Navy. Five Secretaries of State—all most distinguished statesmen, have aspired to the Presidency and been disappointed. Four Presidents were distinguished as military commanders—Washington, Jackson, Harrison and Taylor, and the last three were elected on military prestige. All the rest were civilians who had taken each a large part in public affairs before their election to the first office of the nation. Not one of them has ever been accused of personal dishonor, of peculation in office or of enriching himself at the public expense or advancing his family through the influence of his position. On the whole, notwithstanding political differences of opinion and party bitterness, we may challenge the world for a parallel in rulers to the wisdom and virtue of these seventeen Presidents of the United States. In the best Governments of modern Europe, it is only at long intervals that there is a monarch governing for the good of the people and refraining from rapacity. In constitutional England, where the Prime Minister is virtually the ruler, peculation is not the exception, but the rule, and the office is more frequently used to further family interests and personal ambition than the good of the State. In the Roman Republic the Consular authority was almost invariably abused by avarice and ambition; and in the Empire, if we except the brief and golden age of Trajan, Hadrian and the two Antonines, there is nothing in public virtue to compare with even the worst of our Presidents, who must ever stand out in history as the paragon rulers of a great nation, shaming the hoary lies of monarchists and vindicating the superiority of this Government over all that have preceded it.—Stockton Independent.

A RACE WITH A BULL.—Some forty years ago, the managers of a race-course near Brownsville, on the Monongahela, published a notice of a race—one mile heats—on a particular day, for a purse of $100, "Free for anything with four legs and hair on." A man in the neighborhood, named Hayes, had a bull that he was in the habit of riding to mill with his bag of corn, and he was determined to enter him for the race. He said nothing about it to any one, but he rode him around the track a number of times on several moonlight nights, until the bull had the hang of the ground pretty well, and would keep the right course. He rode with spurs, which the bull considered disagreeable, so much so that he always bellowed when they were applied to his flanks.

On the morning of the race, Hayes came upon the ground on horseback—on his bull. Instead of a saddle he had a dried ox-hide, the head part of which, with the horns still on, he placed on the bull's rump. He carried a short tin horn in his hand. He rode to the judge's stand, and offered to enter his bull for the race; but the owners of the horses that were entered, objected.

He then appealed to the terms of the notice, insisting that his bull had "four legs and hair on," and that he had a right to enter him. After a good deal of swearing, the judges declared themselves compelled to decide that the bull had the right to run, and was entered accordingly. When the time for starting arrived, the bull and horses took their places. The horse racers were out of humor at being bothered with the bull, and at the burlesque which they supposed was intended, but thought it would be over as soon as the horses started. When the signal was given they did start. Hayes gave a blast of his horn, and sunk the spurs into the sides of the bull, which bounded off with a terrible bawl, the dried ox-hide flopping up and down, and rattling at every jump, making a combination of noises that were never heard on a race-course before. The horses all flew from the track, every one seeming to be seized with a sudden determination to take the shortest cut to get out of the Redstone county, and not one of them could be brought back in time to save their distance. The purse was given to Hayes. A general row ensued; but the fun of the thing put the crowd on the side of the bull. The horsemen, however, said that they had been swindled out of their purse, and that had it not been for Hayes' horn and ox hide, which he ought not to have been permitted to bring upon the ground, the thing would not have happened. Upon this Hayes told them his bull could beat their horses anyway, and if they would put up a hundred dollars against the purse he had won, he would take off the ox-hide and leave the tin-horn, and run a fair race with them. His offer was accepted and the money staked. They again took their places at the starting post, and the signal was given. Hayes gave the bull another touch with the spur, and he gave a tremendous bellow. The horses, remembering the dreadful sound, thought all the rest was coming as before. Away they went again in spite of the exertions of their riders, while Hayes galloped his bull around the track and won the money.

PERILOUS ADVENTURE AMONG GRIZZLIES AND WOLVES.—The Montana Post vouches for the following, which seems to throw into the shade the adventures of Colonel Crockett, and "Grizzly Adams:"

John Adams, of Bannock City, a thorough and unpretending gentleman of varied experience and travel, and one of our most substantial miners, has been the hero of an adventure among the ferocious animals of the Rocky Mountains that borders on the miraculous, in escape from personal peril, and the fictitious, in its thrilling details. Some two weeks since he went to the head of Salmon river, in Idaho, on a prospecting and hunting expedition, in company with three or four others. In his desire for game and adventure—both of which he finally got a surfeit—he frequently left his companions and took a circuitous course. One day he traveled in search of grizzlies, finding deer, the next day, in searching for deer, he came in contact with a huge grizzly. Undismayed by the formidable size and hostile demonstrations of bruin, he leveled his Henry's rifle (a 16 shooter) and fired. The fierce monster simply growled in response to the report of the gun, and rushed towards his assailant with vengeance-flashing eyes! The shot was not fatal. With nerves still equal to the fearful emergency, the brave hunter again leveled his piece, fired, and the grizzly fell, and soon lay lifeless before him. Starting towards his trophy, his attention was arrested by a crackling noise near by. Looking in that direction, he beheld another huge grizzly, about thirty yards distant. Quickly aiming and firing off his rifle, the bullet, like the first, only inflicted a maddening wound. The speed with which this bear made towards Adams prevented him from making a second stand, as he had done in the case of the first one, and he ran at the top of his speed for a tree. When he reached it the bear was not more than twenty feet behind him. Ascending about ten feet, he cast a hasty glance below, there was his mortal foe, standing upon its hind legs, with its paws against the body of the tree! In breathless suspense he looked not down again until he ascended further and strapped himself to a limb. Imagine his horrified sensations when he then looked below to see the second grizzly joined by a third! Being then in position where he could use his rifle with deliberation, the second and third bears were soon stretched in death at the roots of the tree.

Darkness was now closing around the scene, and the hunter was about to descend when a troop of half famished wolves, attracted by the scent of blood, gathered about the dead bears' carcasses, and there held high carnival until morning, dawn [illegible] amid such howls as ears unacquainted would suppose could not be sent up outside of regions Plutonian. [illegible] on a high range of mountains without water with wet feet the situation of Adams during this eventful night can be imagined more easily than described. He reached camp in the evening, having been thirty six hours without food. He came into town to replenish his stock of ammunition, and is off for Salmon river in further quest of game. If the records of "Grizzly Adams" of California bear hunting [illegible] the adventure of our friend Adams of Montana we will be [illegible]

PHARAOH'S SERPENTS.—A meeting of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain has been held at Edinburgh and in the course of the proceedings the following communication was read from Dr. S. Macadam on the poisonous ingredients in Pharaoh's serpents: [illegible] dangerous and poisonous substance called the sulpho-cyanide of mercury. The material is a double headed poisoned arrow, for it contains two poisonous ingredients, viz: mercury and sulpho-cyanic acid, either of which will kill. Experiments have been made by me upon the lower animals and I have found that one [illegible] of Pharaoh's serpent is sufficient to poison a large sized rabbit in an hour and three quarters. A less dose also destroys life but takes longer to do so. The toy, therefore, is much too deadly to be regarded as merely amusing, and seeing that it can be purchased by every schoolboy and be brought home to the nursery, it is rather alarming to think that there is enough of poison in one of these serpents to destroy the lives of three children.

A REAL RELISHER OF A JOKE.—A man lately received twenty lashes well laid on at the whipping post in an English town. The culprit, instead of flinching when the constable applied the lash, laughed immoderately, which made the angry officer lay on with harder force. On giving him the twentieth blow the angry officer could stand it no longer.

"Well here, mister!" said the offended officer, "I've done my duty, and I can lick ye no more, but I'd just like to know what it is that's so funny!"

"Funny!" roared the other, "why, it's excellent. You've got the wrong Smith! I ain't the man that was to be whipped! It is the other one. Now you'll have to do it all over again! Really, it's too good! You must lick the other man! Ha! ha!"

"What flower of beauty shall I marry?" said a young spendthrift to his miserly governor. To which the governor replied with a grim smile "Marigold!"

THE STANDARD AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENtion of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863 composed of all the first class players of America it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable tables.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ, in the construction of our tables a variety of machines specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player, M. Berger, has published the following opinion:

"NEW YORK, 2d August, 1861

"On the eve of leaving the United States I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

"BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first-class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. "The BILLIARD CUE," a journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news, and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards sent free on application.

M E HUGHES,
730 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed.

General Remarks.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp. An instrument subject to stamp duty but issued and used unstamped prior to August 1, 1864 may be rendered valid by stamping it as required by section 163 of Act of June 30, 1864, if issued since the act falls under section 158 of said Act, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1865.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than by writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these as the original processes, severally require stamps.

The jurat of an affidavit taken before a justice of the peace, notary public or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings.

Certificates of Loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument—that is to say, for every sum of two hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and cancelled by either of them.

In conveyance of real estate the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS AT tended this invaluable medicine proves it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivaled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And to every discase in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PRODUCTIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.
